Now He Thinks It's Wrong to Bet.

Two old cronies went into a drug store in the downtown part of New York City, and addressing the proprietor by his first name, one of them said:

"Dr. Charley, we have made a bet of the last year's wages. We will have them now, and when the bet is decided the loser will drop in and pay for them."

As the two old fellows were departing after enjoying their temperance beverage, the druggist asked them what the wager was.

"Well," said one of them, "our friend George bet that when the tower of the Singer building falls, it will topple over toward the North River, and I bet that it won't—Everybody's Magazine."

Charles the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Avery of West Rutland, had a narrow escape from death by drowning Saturday. A building owned by Matthew Howard of Brattleboro, on the bluff opposite Dewey Drop in at Spofford lake, was burned early Saturday afternoon. It had been used several years as a combined cottage and stable by Mr. Howard in running a livery business during the summer months. He was getting the premises in condition for opening, and at noon built a fire in the stove, so as to warm his dinner. A little later, while painting outside, he was startled by finding the interior a mass of flames. There was but little opportunity to save any of the contents, and the building was soon in ruins. The loss was about $1,000.

His wife was Ethel Essex of London, England, a sister of Mrs. James F. Hooker, until recently resident of Brattleboro. After leaving Bellows Falls, Mr. Bradley was employed in paper manufacturing in Maine and the past few years has been engaged in automobile work. He was the owner of one of the first automobiles brought to Bellows Falls.

A pair of horses owned by D. M. Broomehan were drawn backward over an embankment Sunday morning. The horses were attached to a dump truck which was being pulled back to the top of the embankment. The driver backed the cart too close to the edge and the rear wheels slid over. The whole outfit went crashing down the bank and landed in a heap of debris at the bottom. One of the horses was raised to his feet after a few minutes' work, but it was fully an hour before the other could get up. If the second horse had not shown such docility and intelligence, it would have been impossible to get it to its feet without serious injury. Neither horse was injured beyond a few minor cuts. This makes four teams which have gone down the embankment since the dump was started.

MOSTLY ROUTINE BUSINESS

Transacted at Montpelier City Council Meeting—New Tax Makes Work.

The regular meeting of the Montpelier city council was held and considerable business transacted, which was mostly of a routine nature. The special city meeting voted a 15-cent tax and the city attorney decided that it would be best to keep separate books for the regular and special taxes, which will make much easier work for the city clerk and his assistant. Few people realize the difference the new tax will make. It will necessitate the writing of the name of every taxpayer in the city twelve times, and without double the amount of work to be done. The total tax is now $1.75 on the dollar and the poll tax will amount to $3.50.

Chief Alexander of the fire department suggested placing a fire bell in the new city hall tower, but Mayor Davelay thought it best for the council to reserve any suggestions in that line until it was seen how the building committee finances were coming out, as there might be no money left for extras. It was the unanimous opinion of all that the bell would be a good thing and the tower a good place. It now takes two men a week to repair the fire alarm.

The usual large number of bills were ordered paid and several licenses granted. G. O. Stratton resigned as school commissioner from ward 6 and the matter was laid on the table. The council voted to permit the use of armory hall for the graduating exercises of the high-graded schools, and to buy a tank car for use on the roads. A few other matters which came up were referred to the various committees.
